PARTNER AWARDS CRITERIA

Criteria used by the panel judges to determine the finalists is based on the eligibility criteria for the award as defined in this document, is not limited to usage of Oracle products, and other important factors including the alignment of the customer story to the award categories and their descriptions as outlined below.

2024 Innovation Award

The Innovation Award category recognizes partners that have developed and/or delivered pioneering solutions through partnering with Oracle. These partners have produced thought-leadership-level solutions that empower Oracle customers to meet their business goals and challenges through the partner’s innovative solution. Partners that have developed solutions that integrate multiple Oracle technologies and products and/or have integrated a third-party Oracle technology partner into their solution should submit a nomination in this category.

Partner nominations in this category should provide details and information in their submission that describes how they developed a combination of reference architecture(s) and implementation workflow that boosts productivity and delivers transformational results to advance their customer's business initiatives. The panel of judges will look for partner solutions that introduce groundbreaking capabilities and measurable improvements for the customer. In this innovation category, the partner may describe how they have implemented a production-proven environment that eliminated barriers to success with break-through technology prowess across an array of infrastructure and software design elements. Partner innovation may also include how their implementation of Oracle solution(s) reduced adverse environmental impacts and introduced environmental sustainability.

2024 Business Impact Award

The Business Impact Award will exhibit partners that have packaged a set of capabilities and best practices to drive repeatable value for business expansion of services and/or delivery of solutions that address customer challenges. This award category will prioritize partners that have built a thriving business in a solution area, specific industry-vertical, or customer segment with Oracle's portfolio of technology, products and services.

The ideal partner has created an operational framework to win business and deliver successful outcomes that leverages their Oracle expertise and certifications that fosters demonstrable consumption of Oracle products and subscription services by their customers. For example, the partner may show how they attained their target growth-potential with Oracle expertise and certifications or through implementing a SaaS solution with Oracle Cloud Infrastructure. The winning partner will have demonstrated a continuous capability to upsell and cross-sell Oracle products and subscription services through proven field-execution with Oracle Sales and Marketing teams. Additionally, the partner may have developed an end-to-end practice that provides excellence in pre-sale and post-sale customer service with positive customer satisfaction scores.

2024 Customer Success Award

Oracle fosters high customer satisfaction in its business. The partner and Oracle both win when customers are satisfied with their Oracle-based solution and shares their stories with other companies that will help the partner and Oracle earn new business. When customers are successful, Oracle and its partners are successful.

The Customer Success Award criteria will consider how partners have earned high customer satisfaction from cloud journey services and/or cloud technology platform adoption that is based on Oracle technology. Judges for the customer success award will examine how the partner's end-customers have realized value from ease of solution implementation and manageability, human capital efficiencies, cost savings, reduced technical debt, measurable return on investment and other qualitative factors that the partner includes in their nomination form. SIs, MSPs and CSPs will need to demonstrate a consistent track record of successful delivery of customer implementations. Technology provider/ISVs will need to show how they have developed a platform and realized ongoing successful customer traction and adoption of services through their cloud journey.

For all partners—SI's, ISV's/IHV's, CSP's/MSP's—the nomination submission should show how their implementation, lifecycle and governance frameworks consistently deliver customer satisfaction. This partner nomination should include outstanding, published customer success stories that provide examples of solving their customer's challenge with remarkable results. The customer scenario needs to include before and after metrics along with a quote from the customer that describe why the customer considered their solution successful. The customer should also be a referenceable account and willing to participate in a published customer+partner success story.

The ideal partner may submit a narrative that describes a significant customer challenge with a set of performance metric indicators and success factors, provided by their customer, that demonstrate transformational outcomes. As an example, these metrics may demonstrate improvement from a before and after scenario. Examples of performance metrics include: ROI from CapEx/OpEx improvement, accuracy indicators, time saved from automation, lower processing times, improved diagnostics capabilities to identify and fix potential problems, higher yields, faster response times from data-driven decisions, reduction in time-to-market, streamlined compliance and records management, and improved employee experience.

For Systems Integrator partners, the nomination should articulate key investments the partner has incorporated into their practice and on what Oracle solutions their practice is focused. Partners should include information that describes training and certification of their staff, the types of customer projects that their practice includes within project documented timelines, volume of service requests to Oracle and volume of projects escalated to Oracle. For training and certification, the nomination will need to include the number of people that are trained and certified on the specific Oracle product(s); what percentage of the partners total staff is trained and certified on an Oracle technology. For oracle solution practice areas, the nomination will need to include the number of projects the partner completed and the number of those projects are referenceable. This information should compare the number of successful projects against a percentage of the total projects that the partner has completed in the same timeframe. The partner nomination should describe the best and most successful customer project that includes partner-centric metrics for on-time delivery with descriptions of how project milestones were achieve, post implementation service requests and other project-related factors.

2024 PARTNER AWARD SELECTION OF WINNERS

After the Nomination period closes on 14 June 2024 at 11:59 pm in the corresponding time zone to the respective geographical location, the submissions will be reviewed for eligibility and completion aligning with instructions on the Nomination form and the eligibility requirements in these rules.

Potential finalists/winners will be confidentially informed prior to 9 September 2024.

When the Sponsor notifies potential finalists/winner(s), each potential finalist/winner will be required to sign a legal affidavit of eligibility to receive the award and release forms granting permission for the Sponsor to announce the finalist/winner and reference finalist/winner as a customer of the Sponsor in Sponsor's marketing materials. A Nominee will not be announced as an award finalist/winner without successful completion of the affidavit and release forms. If the Sponsor is unable to reach a potential finalist/winner, or if the affidavit and release forms are not properly completed and returned to the Sponsor by the date requested, or if an award notification is returned as undeliverable, or if a potential finalist/winner is found not to have complied with these Official Rules in any way, the award will be forfeited and an alternate winner will be selected. Potential finalist/winner(s) will be given a deadline to respond and return the completed affidavit and release forms.

All decisions by Oracle are final. Oracle reserves the right to modify or terminate the Oracle Awards promotion at any time and at its sole discretion.
